

ENROLLMENT DEPOSIT

Enrollment Deposit and Admission Confirmation

Newly-admitted on-campus freshmen and transfers must submit an enrollment deposit (<https://admissions.colostate.edu/2019/11/15/what-you-need-to-know-about-the-enrollment-deposit/>) to secure their place in the entering class. The enrollment deposit covers new student charges. Paying the deposit opens access to other critical steps in the enrollment process, including on-campus housing, Ram Orientation and course registration.

If payment of the enrollment deposit presents a financial hardship (<https://admissions.colostate.edu/2017/02/27/qualify-fee-waiver-enrollment-deposit-deferral/>) or the full cost of attendance will be covered by a third party (e.g. international sponsor, 100% GI Bill[®] entitlement, athletic scholarship), students can request an enrollment deposit deferral. Students who received a need-based application fee waiver are eligible for an enrollment deposit deferral when they confirm their intent to enroll. When a deferral is granted, the student secures a place in the entering class and opens access to other steps to enroll, and the deferred amount appears as a charge on the student's first billing statement.

Refer to the appropriate admitted student guide (<https://admissions.colostate.edu/admitted/>) for deadlines and instructions.

Please visit the CSU Office of Admissions website for more information about the enrollment deposit refund policy (<https://admissions.colostate.edu/apply/refund-waiver-policies/>).
