

CERTIFICATE IN MARKETING COMMUNICATION AND BRANDING

The Marketing Communication and Branding certificate is designed to train for effectively communicating with customers across a variety of channels and in developing effective branding strategies. Students completing this certificate could pursue employment at an ad agency or an agency specializing in branding, digital marketing, or sales promotion. Students gain knowledge, skills, and experiences for employment as a marketing communications or digital marketing specialist.