

CERTIFICATE IN DESIGN THINKING

Open to all undergraduate students, the Certificate in Design Thinking will improve not only the way students learn and find solutions to problems in their current coursework, but will also help make students more employable with sought-after marketable skills. Students will gain an awareness of the impact of design thinking and its application – regardless of discipline, profession, or major.

Learn more about the Certificate in Design Thinking on the Nancy Richardson Design Center website. (<https://www.chhs.colostate.edu/rdc/learn/certificate-in-design-thinking/>)