

GRADUATE CERTIFICATE IN CAMPUS CRISIS MANAGEMENT

Emergencies on college campuses happen. Being prepared to deal with crises can help minimize the impact of such events on your students and institution. This graduate certificate equips you with the skills needed to deal with different kinds of crises, the stakeholders involved, and the media. Students develop an understanding of crisis management for colleges and universities, including planning, prevention, response, and recovery. Additionally, students gain human relation skills to use during such events. This five-course, 15-credit offering introduces learners to many facets of campus crisis management. This certificate requires a completed bachelor's degree with a 3.000 grade point average.
