Learning Objectives

Students will:

1. Apply advanced clinical skills in diagnosis and intervention for practice with specialized mental health populations.
2. Differentiate practice models for client-centered and self-directed care to empower clients for anti-oppressive engagement with mental health services.
3. Distinguish the social work role for collaboration within interdisciplinary behavioral health teams to include social work values and ethics, theoretical orientations, and best practices.
4. Implement culturally aware assessment and intervention techniques for practice in clinical behavioral health, that recognize dynamics of privilege, oppression and personal bias.
